The Hosts

MV International

MV International (MVI) is a non-profit "association of organizations" established in 2012 that functions as a global network for social innovation and project development. By bringing together a consortium of over 40 member organizations, including NGOs, public bodies, and private stakeholders, it acts as a collaborative hub for managing international initiatives and facilitating knowledge exchange among professionals working in the NGO sector.

The organization specializes in supporting project design and implementation within major funding frameworks such as Erasmus+, Horizon Europe, COSME, and JUSTICE. They provide structural support for participatory planning, thematic research, and proposal development, helping entities align their work with European Union priorities and United Nations Sustainable Development Goals. Their platform is designed to connect partners and streamline the complexities of international grant procurement.

MVI's core mission focuses on cultivating inclusive, sustainable, and reflective societies through non-formal education, social entrepreneurship, and education through sport. Their diverse activities include thematic studies, regional surveys, and networking events aimed at fostering youth mobility, social inclusion, and gender equality.

The Hosts

Social Innovation and Cohesion Institute

The Social Innovation and Cohesion Institute is working to bring about social change for the benefit of citizens in the context of development of local, regional and European society. It focuses on the promotion of equal learning opportunities, in promoting human rights, cultivating the spirit of entrepreneurship and the development of people's abilities, promotes intercultural dialogue, knowledge exchange and European awareness with the active participation of young people and adults in projects relating to mobility, entrepreneurship education, professional and personal development. It is linked closely with various public and private bodies in national and international level, including NGOs, schools, universities, VET providers, municipalities, etc.

The Social Innovation and Cohesion Institute (Fifty-Fifty) is an organization of civil society, established to help individuals, communities and institutions to develop their skills, improve their performance and share knowledge to be able to meet the challenges of society and thus contribute actively to the development of a European area of skills and qualifications.

About the Project

The project is funded under the Civil Society Cooperation in the field of Youth. Its primary goal is to deepen structured youth participation in democratic life, raise awareness of the EU Youth Strategy and European Youth Goals, and strengthen the EU Youth Dialogue. The initiative directly embeds the European Commission's core priorities of inclusion and diversity, digital transformation, environmental sustainability, and participation in democratic life. By offering dedicated youth spaces and direct engagement mechanisms, the project aims to address the democratic deficit and build young people's confidence in the EU project.

The project focuses on designing and delivering youth-centered activities across Europe, executed collaboratively by more than 30 organizations within the MVI network. The project establishes a comprehensive, forward-looking framework that bridges local youth initiatives with overarching European policy objectives.

The initiative ensures both immediate community impact and long-term organizational sustainability. Ultimately, it empowers diverse young people across Europe to become active drivers of democratic life, sustainability, and digital transformation, while solidifying the role of civil society in shaping the future of European youth policy.

About the Green Echo Workshop 1 – Youth for Sustainability

Green Echo Workshop 1 – Youth for Sustainability will bring together young people, youth workers and civil society representatives in Brussels for a two-day learning and collaboration experience focused on environmental sustainability, climate action and youth participation in the green transition. The workshop will provide an inclusive space where participants can strengthen their environmental knowledge, develop green skills, and explore how young people can contribute to more sustainable communities.

Through thematic workshops, non-formal learning methods, collaborative discussions and practical sessions, participants will examine environmental challenges that affect their local communities. Particular attention will be given to topics such as recycling and waste reduction, biodiversity protection, responsible energy use, sustainable lifestyles, and environmental citizenship.

A central objective of the workshop is to move beyond awareness and encourage practical youth-led action. Participants will exchange experiences and good practices, identify local environmental needs, and work together to co-design an eco-action that can respond to a concrete sustainability challenge. In this way, young people will be encouraged to see themselves not only as learners, but also as active contributors to climate action and the European green transition.

By bringing together participants from different countries and backgrounds, the workshop will encourage the exchange of perspectives, practical ideas, and sustainable practices. The experience gained during the event will support future environmental activities and help young people and organisations develop stronger, more coordinated responses to local sustainability challenges.

Explore Brussels

Brussels, the vibrant capital of Belgium and the de facto capital of the European Union, is a city where history, culture, and international cooperation come together. Famous for its stunning Grand Place, charming medieval streets, and impressive architecture, Brussels offers visitors a unique blend of historic landmarks and modern European institutions. As a multicultural city, it is home to people from all over the world, creating a lively atmosphere filled with diverse traditions, languages, and cuisines.

During your stay, take the opportunity to discover some of Brussels' most iconic attractions, including the Atomium, the Manneken Pis, the Royal Palace, and the beautiful Parc du Cinquantaenaire. The city is also renowned for its world-famous Belgian chocolates, waffles, fries, and over 1,500 varieties of beer. Whether exploring its museums, relaxing in one of its many parks, or strolling through its picturesque neighbourhoods, Brussels offers an unforgettable experience that perfectly complements the intercultural spirit of the ECHO Dialogues Youth Assembly – Circle II.

Participants' Profile

Participants for the activity must have the following:

- Participants from 8 different countries
- Age range: 18 - 30 (or 30+ for youth leaders)
- Youth interested in civic engagement and policymaking, young leaders and activists, youth workers and professionals in the field, public officials and policymakers for multi-level dialogue
- Equal gender representation for balanced perspectives, inclusive of all races, ethnicities, religions, and political affiliations fostering cross-cultural communication and collaboration
- Willing to share their knowledge, skills and experience with the other participants and act as multipliers in their communities.

The selection criteria of the participants will be:

- Participants from different cultural and social backgrounds, individuals with fewer opportunities (economic, social, or geographical challenges) and commitment to inclusivity and respect for diverse perspectives.
- In equally good evaluated applications, then the previous experience in such kind of projects will be considered – the participants who have never participated to an Erasmus project will have priority to the ones that have already been to be introduced to the European values and develop a sense of European citizenship and identity and also have the opportunity to raise their awareness of other countries and cultures.

Preparation of Participants

- The activity will be in English. Therefore, participants should be able to communicate in English.
- All participants are expected to participate fully throughout the activity, except in the case of illness. Unauthorised absence from activities is not permitted. The activities will be designed and conducted in such a way that all participants have the opportunity to contribute their points of view. We expect you to participate and contribute.
- Before your travel, participants should check the documents they need to cross the border into Belgium and whether they have them.
Pay attention to the expiry date!
- Participants are encouraged to promote the project, share the results achieved and carry out dissemination activities.
